Marine and Aquatic Practices
Subject Code: MAP

HEAD OF DEPARTMENT: Allison Sneddon

SUBJECT OUTLINE:

This subject incorporates the study of safety and management of lakes, rivers and the sea, and develops knowledge and understanding of the commercial, environmental, recreational and cultural significance of these waterways.

Marine and Aquatic Practices provides unique learning experiences and can enhance students’ employment opportunities in these industries and establish a basis for their further training.

The two year course covers the following units:
- Team work
- Aquariums and Aquaculture
- First Aid
- Marine and Aquatic species
- Careers
- Reef Studies
- Weather, Tides, Currents
- Boating and Navigation
- Recreational Fishing

CONtributes TO OP: No

ASSESSMENT OUTLINE:

Assessment in this subject covers a range of techniques and tasks offer a variety of ways and conditions so students may demonstrate evidence of knowledge, practical skills and Work related practices.

Assessment Techniques may include: observational checklists, assignments, projects and field reports, response to stimulus material and written tests.

CAREER PATHWAYS:

Fisheries officer, marine scientist, natural resource manager, dive industry

COSTS: $100 each year

STUDENT REQUIREMENTS/PREREQUISITES:

There are additional costs associated with Marine and Aquatic Practices for site visits and excursions.